A Note From The Teacher

Tic, Tac and Toc have fun together and we are learning about how new words are made sometimes by just changing one letter. This week take a closer look at words we know and how to change them to make a new word. In Math our Balance Scales help us classify object as heavier, light and equal We will also begin to look at the capacity of objects. The New York Historical Society will visit us via Zoom! New York, Objects Then and Now is our first lesson. We cannot wait to see what they have to teach us!
