A Note From The Teacher

Superkid Izzy loves interesting information and introduced Kindergarteners to the short /i/ sound. This week we will use our blending skills to read Izzy's Books. We will identify words that have the short /i/ as the initial or medial sound in a word. Students will put their letter isolation skills to work to write a simple sentence. Writing sentences helps us practice our handwriting, spacing and punctuation skills. In Math, a number line will help us count on and find sums. Kindergarten Scientists begin to explore Force and Motion, starting with the concept of Push. The new sight words are up, did.

Reminders

Sight words. Read them, write them, use them in a sentence.
